

Cindy Nunweiler~Owner

Cindy Nunweiler has had a life long love for dance beginning at three years old. Her earliest memories are with her former dance teacher who was a Rockette at Radio City Music Hall. Cindy knew that dance was her calling and took dance lessons through her elementary middle and high school years.

After High School, Cindy attended De Sales University in Center Valley, PA (formerly known as Allentown College, St. Francis De Sales) where she earned her Bachelor of Arts in Dance. Her college curriculum was teaching oriented and focused her training on dance technique in Modern, Tap and Ballet as well as on teaching methods, choreography, stage and lighting, stage management and company dance management. Upon graduation, she began her teaching career and has taught for the past twenty years in Pennsylvania as well as in the Up State.

Cindy's experience and passion for dance can be seen by watching her interaction and teaching methods encouraging and promoting proper dance technique while having fun in the class room! Her experience covers a broad range of levels, beginning with early childhood development, as well as novice and advance dancers. She has prepared many students to attend Governor Schools as well as for Dance oriented College programs. Cindy is very proud of all of her students as well as those that have continued their dance education. She has taught and mentored many dance students over the years and has had students pursue their dance educations at Temple University, Columbia College, University of North Carolina, Point Park College and her alma mater, De Sales University.

Cindy's experience with dance companies and in choreography can be seen in her performance dance companies. Her students have continuously earned numerous local and national awards as well as receiving numerous teacher awards and Best-In-Show choreography.

Cindy's education and training did not end at college, just like the other teachers at this studio. Cindy regularly attends advanced teacher work-shops in dance and attends classes at the Broadway Dance Center in New York City, NY. She continues to pursue the latest dance trends as well as teaching methods and instruction from some of the most renowned dance teachers including: Sheila Barker, Natasha Baron, Laura Hausman and Chebar Williams (to name a few).

Cindy is now the Owner/ Director of Studio A Performing Arts Company where she can continue her teaching and commitment to the art. Her husband Gunther, (who can be heard from back stage) and her children Allie and Victoria, who can be seen performing, provide the loving support to allow her to focus her talent, energy and commitment to her dance students.

The logo for Dance Theatre of Greenville (DTG) features the letters 'DTG' in a large, bold, purple serif font. The letters are closely spaced, with the 'D' and 'T' sharing a vertical stroke on the left side.

dance theatre of greenville